About the Board

The California Board of Vocational Nursing and Psychiatric Technicians (Board or BVNPT) protects consumers from unprofessional and unsafe licensed vocational nurses (VNs) and psychiatric technicians (PTs). Public protection is the highest priority of the Board in exercising its licensing, regulatory and disciplinary functions. The BVNPT is part of the Department of Consumer Affairs (DCA).

The Vocational Nurse Program was created by the Statutes of 1951, Chapter 1689, and the Psychiatric Technician Program was created by the Statutes of 1959, Chapter 1851. The oversight of the two professions was melded into one Board in 1959. In 1998, the name changed from the Board of Vocational Nurse and Psychiatric Technician Examiners of the State of California to the Board of Vocational Nursing and Psychiatric Technicians of the State of California.

Authorized by Chapter 590 of the Statutes of 2024 (AB 3255, Berman), the BVNPT administers the laws related to the practice of licensed vocational nurses and psychiatric technicians.

Vocational Nurses (VNs) provide basic nursing care to clients under the direction of a physician, registered nurse, or licensed naturopathic doctor. The VN utilizes scientific and technical expertise and manual skills. A VN's scope of practice typically includes, but is not limited to, provision of basic hygienic and nursing care, measurement of vital signs, basic client assessment, documentation, performance of prescribed treatments, and administration of prescribed medications. A VN may also perform non-medicated intravenous therapy and blood withdrawal upon successful completion of a separate Board-approved certification. The Vocational Nursing Practice Act, Business and Professions Code sections 2840, et. seq. governs the functions of VNs in California.

Psychiatric Technicians (PTs) provide care for mentally disordered or developmentally disabled clients under the direction of the director of those services. The director may be a physician, psychologist, rehabilitation therapist, social worker, registered nurse or other professional. The PT utilizes scientific and technical expertise and manual skills to provide care and training for clients with mental disorders and developmental disabilities. A PT's scope of practice typically includes, but is not limited to, basic hygiene and nursing care, measurement of vital signs, performance of prescribed treatments, administration of prescribed medications, implementation of behavioral management techniques, crisis intervention, sensory and perceptual development assessment, social and vocational training, and the facilitation of individual and group therapeutic activities. In 1970, the Psychiatric Technician certification was changed to a licensure program through Senate Bill 298. The Psychiatric Technician Law, Business and Professions Code sections 4500, et. seq. governs the functions of PTs in California.

The Board is composed of eleven members with a public member majority (i.e., 6 public members and 5 professional members). Nine members are appointed by the Governor, one by the Speaker of the Assembly and one by the Senate Pro Tempore.

Message from the Board President

On behalf of the California Board of Vocational Nursing and Psychiatric Technicians (BVNPT), I am pleased to present our 2025-2030 Strategic Plan.

As the healthcare landscape continues to evolve, BVNPT holds an important role in protecting the public while supporting our licensees. Creating pathways for success has inspired BVNPT to create an improved program approval process, thus making sure that there will be adequate access to LVN and LPT education. We have examined current trends and implemented precedential decisions to ensure the safety of the public. We continue to work with our partner boards to create synergistic collaboration to assure that healthcare consumers remain our top priority and receive the care they need.

With these important concepts in mind, the strategic plan was developed. The Department of Consumer Affairs' (DCA) Strategic Organizational Leadership and Individual Development (SOLID) planning unit coordinated staff focus groups, in-depth individual interviews with the Board's executive management team and board members, sought input from our stakeholders, and engaged in working meetings to solidify the goals for the future.

As we move forward, this strategic plan will provide a basis to guide and direct the Board in its future endeavors. It builds on the accomplishments of the past five years and strives to align with upcoming changes in the healthcare sector. As we examined our vision and values for the future, we celebrated our accomplishments of the past and worked to create a blueprint to carry forward the goals of this organization, always keeping in mind the goal of protection of the public.

BVNPT looks forward to working to accomplish this strategic plan and continue being a leader for change in the healthcare workforce.

Strategic Planning Process

To understand the environment in which the Board operates as well as identify factors that could impact the Board's success in carrying out its regulatory duties, the Department of Consumer Affairs' SOLID Planning Unit (SOLID) conducted an environmental scan of the Board's internal and external environments by collecting information through the following methods:

- Phone/online interviews with board members, executive leadership, and board management during April and May of 2024.
- Online surveys distributed to board staff and external stakeholders, during the month of April and May 2024.

The most significant themes and trends identified from the environmental scan were discussed by board members, board leadership and staff, and members of the public during a strategic planning session facilitated by SOLID on August 15, 2024. This information guided the Board in the development of its strategic objectives outlined in this 2025-2030 strategic plan.
